The team

Officers and directors

Jake Obremski	Co-founder, CEO, Director
Neil Glazier	Co-founder, CTO, Director
Dave Schoenbeck	Board Member, Investor, Director

Jake Obremski

Having the initial idea for Dablr back in 2015, Obremski credits his and his partners passion and dedication to Dablr as a main reason for its success. Jake has been the President and CEO of Dablr since it's official founding December 25th, 2017. Before Dablr, Jake was an employee at NCG Cinemas from November 2014-October 2015.

Neil Glazier

Glazier's passion for technology is what propelled him to be the company's CTO and developer he is today. Number of Employees: 2

Related party transactions

We currently have a $10,000 investment via SAFE Note with Dave Schoenbeck, a mentor and director of the company. The terms include a $5M cap and a 25% discount rate that will convert at the next financing round of $600,000. This investment was made by a mentor of the company, who was awarded a board seat as part of the SAFE note.

RISK FACTORS

These are the principal risks that related to the company and its business:

- Competition We will compete with larger, established products who currently have products on the markets and/or various respective product development programs. They have much better financial means and marketing/sales and human resources than us. They may succeed in developing and marketing equivalent products earlier than us, or superior products than those developed by us. There can be no assurance that competitors will not render our technology or products obsolete or that the products developed by us will be preferred to any existing or newly developed technologies. It should further be assumed that that competition will intensify.
- Even if we raise the maximum sought in this offering, we may need to raise extensive funds in order to be able to start manufacturing operations We estimate that we will require at least $10 million to commence commercial production of Dablr. We believe that we will be able to finance the commercial production of Dablr through future investments. If we raise the maximum sought in this offering, we will need to raise more capital to continue expansion and development of our company and our products. Future funding will be required for things like expansion to other major cities, and hiring.
- Any valuation at this stage is pure speculation No one is saying the company is worth a specific amount. They can't. It's a question of whether you, the investor, want to pay this price for this security. Don't think you can make that call? Then don't invest. We want to make sure all of our investors are fully aware that the valuation of the company is pure speculation and has not and can not be proven at this stage.
- Our business projections are only estimates There can be no assurance that the company will meet those projections. There can be no assurance that the company (and you will only make money) if there is sufficient demand for product, people think its a better option than the competition and Dablr has priced the services at a level that allows the company to make a profit and still attract business. We want to make sure our investors know that there is no guarantee the company will achieve any projected estimate in this campaign.
- Our patents and other intellectual property could be unenforceable or ineffective We do not currently have any patents on our products. This could allow more competition to arise and take market share from the company. We do not currently have plans to patent our product. This could make our intellectual property unenforceable and ineffective.
- This is a new and unproven industry Because of how new the gig economy is, there is little to no proof that this industry is going to become profitable therefore making it unclear whether the company succeeds. While there are company's that have been acquired in this industry, that in no way means the same result will happen for this company. By investing you are basing the success of the industry strictly on what you believe the company could potentially do.
- Credit might not be available when we need it; issuing more equity to raise working capital may dilute your ownership interest or may not be possible Credit may not be available to the company for a certain reason, which would require more capital to be raised and potentially diluting your ownership. More capital will be required in the future for further expansion and development of the company, and if the company decides to raise more from outside investors your ownership could potentially be diluted.

- Our new products could fail to achieve the sales traction we expect The company may explore the opportunity of releasing and developing new/other products. These products could fail to achieve traction therefore affecting the entire company. We believe it is necessary to continue expansion and development of the company, but this could result in more than those products being affected by failed products and initiatives.

Payment of dividends on the Common Stock may be restricted by law and by loan agreements, indentures and other transactions entered into by us from time to time. The Company has never paid a dividend and does not intend to pay dividends in the foreseeable future, which means that shareholders may not receive any return on their investment from dividends.

The aggregate dollar amount of SAFE Notes outstanding is $10,000.

Investment Terms:

The Company shall issue the Investors a Simple Agreement for Future Equity (the "SAFE") in exchange for the amount invested by each Investor. The SAFEs have the following principal terms:

Conversion: At the Company's next equity financing pursuant to which it sells shares of its Stock, with an aggregate sales price of not less than $600,000 (not counting the amount of any converted SAFE) and with the principal purpose of raising capital (a "Qualified Financing"), then the SAFEs, will automatically convert into shares of the Stock at the lower of (i) the price obtained by dividing $5,000,000 (the "Pre-Money Value") (i.e. a pre-money valuation of $5,000,000) by the Company's fully-diluted capitalization immediately prior to the Qualified Financing (which in all cases excludes any shares issued upon conversion of convertible debt and the SAFEs) and (ii) 75% of the price paid by investors in the Qualified Financing.

New Series: If the conversion price of the SAFEs is less than the price per share at which Preferred Stock is issued in the Qualified Financing, the Company may, solely at its option, elect to convert the SAFEs into shares of a newly created series of preferred stock having the identical rights, privileges, preferences and restrictions as the Stock issued in the Qualified Financing, and otherwise on the same terms and conditions, other than with respect to: (i) the per share liquidation preference and the conversion price for purposes of price-based anti-dilution protection, which will equal the conversion price; and (ii) the per share dividend, which will be the same percentage of the conversion price as applied to determine the per share dividends of new investors in the Qualified Financing relative to the purchase price paid by such investors.

Change of Control: If the Company is acquired prior to the Qualified Financing, then at the Investor's option, either (i) Investor will receive a cash payment equal to the principal amount of the SAFE, or (ii) such Investor's SAFE will be converted into shares of Common Stock at a conversion price implied by the Pre-Money Value.

What it means to be a Minority Holder

As a minority holder of Common Stock, you will have limited ability to influence our policies or any other corporate matter, including the election of directors, changes to the Company's governance documents, additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the Company or of assets of the Company, or transactions with related parties.

Dilution

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. Each Investor's stake in the Company, could be diluted due to the Company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the Company issues more shares, the percentage of the Company that you own will decrease, even though the value of the Company may increase. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round or angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g., convertible notes, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

We currently have a SAFE note with a $5M cap, and a 25% discount that will convert into Common Stock at the next financing round of $600,000 or more, creating a dilution event.

If we decide to issue more shares, an Investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (although this typically occurs only if we offer dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, referring to invest any earnings into the Company).

The type of dilution that hurts early-stage investors mostly occurs when the company sells more shares in a "down round," meaning at a lower valuation than in earlier offerings.

If you are making an investment expecting to own a certain percentage of the Company or expecting each share to hold a certain amount of value, it is important to realize how the value of those shares can decrease by actions taken by the Company. Dilution can make drastic changes to the value of each share, ownership percentage, voting control, and earnings per share.

Transferability of securities

For a year, the securities can only be resold:

- In an IPO;
- To the company;
- To an accredited investor; and
- To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION; MATERIAL INDEBTEDNESS

Financial Statements

Our financial statements can be found attached to this document. The financial review covers the period ending in 2017-12-31.

Financial Condition

Results of Operation

We have generated revenues and anticipate profitability occurring 01/2022. Based on our forecast, with the liquidity of the anticipated full raise amount, we anticipate that we can operate the business for 12 months without profit generation. After that, more capital will need to be raised. We do not have a long operating history. The major expenses that we intend on having are mostly marketing, including mostly digital marketing including AdWords and Facebook Ads. Other expenses would include operations, such as office space and travel.

Financial Milestones

The company started generating revenue in December 2017, and has generated over $2,000 worth of work in the city of Chicago so far in 2018. We have raised $26,861.38 in capital from outside investors in 2018 which has been used for operations of the company. Quarter over quarter transactions have increased 338% from Q1 to Q2 in the city of Chicago.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Liquidity: Funds raised from this offering are necessary for the company to continue operations into 2019. We anticipate using the available funds immediately as they become available. The minimum raise amount ($10,000) will allow us to continue operations into March 1st, 2019. The maximum raise amount ($100,000) will allow us to continue operations through September 1st, 2019. We anticipate raising more capital throughout that time which we anticipate will allow the company to continue operations past September 1st, 2019.

Capital Resources: The company does not currently have any credit, but the company does anticipate raising more capital from other investors. The company anticipates these investments allowing the company to continue operations. We have not currently looked into financing from other sources, such as a bank.

Indebtedness

The company has not had any material terms of indebtedness.

Recent offerings of securities

- 2018-11-07, Rule 504 Exemption, 261000 Common Stock. Use of proceeds: The proceeds from this offering were put into general operations of the company, such as hosting our servers, paying for background checks of independent contractors, travel expenses, and promotional materials.
- 2018-11-07, Rule 504 Exemption, 10000 SAFE Agreement. Use of proceeds: The proceeds from this offering were put into general operations of the company, such as hosting our servers, paying for background checks of independent contractors, travel expenses, and promotional materials.

Valuation

$3,200,000.00

We have not undertaken any efforts to produce a valuation of the Company. The price of the shares merely reflects the opinion of the Company as to what would be fair market value. The opinion was based on the Company's intellectual property (including the mobile app, the data and number of users the company has), marketplace (the actual and potential users) and the estimated value of similarly sized companies such as Taskrabbit, Takl, Thumbtack and Handy, in the Gig economy industry, at this stage of their developmental lifecycle. With these facts and the drive of the management, we believe this is an accurate determination of the Company's fair market value based calculations made to the best of our abilities.

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Dablr, INC was formed on 12/25/17 (“Inception”) in the State of Illinois. The financial statements of Dablr, INC (which may be referred to as the "Company", "we," "us," or "our") are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”). The Company’s headquarters are located in Sugar Grove, IL.

Dablr, Inc

The company will be designing and operating a mobile application that allows users to post a small job or task they would like completed by an individual, and connect with, communicate, and pay that individual.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported amount of expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates. It is reasonably possible that changes in estimates will occur in the near term.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. Applicable accounting guidance provides an established hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability and are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the Company's assumptions about the factors that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. There are three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 - Include other inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

Fair-value estimates discussed herein are based upon certain market assumptions and pertinent information available to management as of December 31, 2017 and June 12, 2018. The respective carrying value of certain on-balance-sheet financial instruments approximated their fair values.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

The Company will recognize revenues from transaction fees when (a) persuasive evidence that an agreement exists; (b) the service has been performed; (c) the prices are fixed and determinable and not subject to refund or adjustment; and (d) collection of the amounts due is reasonably assured.

Income Taxes

The Company applies ASC 740 Income Taxes ("ASC 740"). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

ASC 740 also provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is “more likely than not” that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

The Company is subject to tax in the United States (“U.S.”) and files tax returns in the U.S. Federal jurisdiction and Illinois state jurisdiction. The Company is subject to U.S. Federal, state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for all periods since Inception. The Company currently is not under examination by any tax authority.

Who We Are

Dablir is a Chicago-based community marketplace that lets users post any chore, small job, or task they need done and connect with a vetted local nearby who can help.

How It Works

Users simply post a job they need done, along with the price they're willing to pay, and vetted locals nearby can view and apply for the job if it fits their schedule. Posters can view applicants, and pick the best based on messages and ratings / reviews.

"Everyone has that long weekly to-do list. Our goal is to make it as easy and affordable as possible to find a helping hand, whether it's for just one task, or the entire to-do list. Dablir is committed to building products that solve this problem."

Our mission is to give people their time back.

Our Accomplishments

We have accomplished launching our products on the iOS store and Google Play, as well as acquiring users (posters and workers) in the city of Chicago. We have implemented a revenue model and we are actively generating revenue.

We have grown organically in the city of Chicago by using guerilla marketing tactics and word of mouth.

We will use the capital raised to fuel growth in the city of Chicago, connecting even more people looking to make money as well as outsource their small jobs and tasks.

Our current traction in the city of Chicago

- We officially launched in the city of Chicago in January, 2018
- We have over 250 sign ups in the city of Chicago
- We have recently partnered with Chicago-based apartment buildings and real estate agents to reach our target market
- Quarter-over-quarter posting growth from Q1 to Q2 was 420%

Jobs posted per quarter

Total amount of money transacted in 2018

- We currently have a 38% repeat user rate.

- In Chicago, we generated $345 worth of work in Q1, and over $2,000 worth of work in Q2, which is growth of approximately 334% quarter over quarter

- We believe that in the 2nd half of 2018 we can double the worth of work created through the platform

Our Product

The Problem

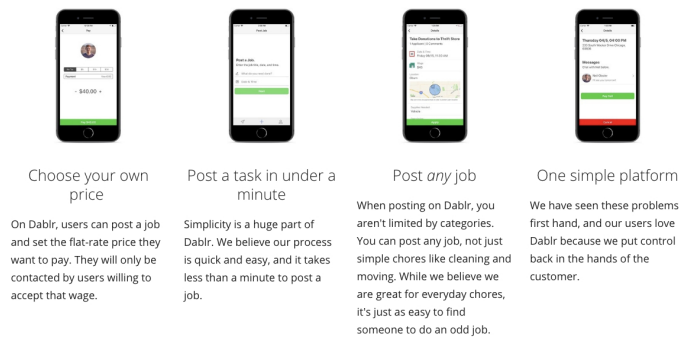

Many people have everyday small jobs or tasks, like delivering items to a donation center or cleaning the fridge, that they would be willing to outsource.

When hiring on other platforms, we believe it can become very expensive and time consuming due to their "matchmaker" process that allows workers to charge high hourly wages. The price can also be uncertain because they use a running hourly clock, rather than a flat-rate model.

We believe it is also difficult to find someone nearby to do an unusual task, like putting price tags on toys at a toy store.

"I have a small job I need done, but I can't find anyone within my budget."

The Solution

Our Market and Industry

We believe the growth of the gig-economy is just beginning. With Dablr and its platform, we believe it is now easier than ever to find help for small jobs.

A recent study in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences suggested that people who spend money on time-saving services feel happier. (Entrepreneur.com - "Do-it-for-me" is the next evolution of the on-demand economy.)

There are currently 4 million people working through the gig-economy, and that number is expected to hit 9.2 million by 2021. (Intuit & Emergent Research)

Approximately 11 percent of the working adult population in the U.S. are working primarily as full-time independent contractors in the gig economy. (Nation1099)

What Makes Dablr Different

We believe Dablr has many competitive advantages that will promote high growth and market share.

A "choose your own price" model allows users to post their job with how much they're willing to pay, rather than being matched to users who charge a wage too high.

All jobs are flat-rate, which means you'll pay what you say whether the job takes half an hour or 5 hours.

There are no service fees, which means you'll pay exactly what you set your wage at.

Users are not "booked". They are accepted after applying, which means users can accept or not accept any job that is posted.

Competition

	Description	Strengths	Weaknesses
TaskRabbit	Marketplace that connects freelancers to local labor demand.	In-app payment, higher payout for worker, stronger traction.	30% service fee for Taskers, long sign-up, very expensive, 75% trust & safety fee.
craigslist	Online classifieds site that offers a gig section.	Simple, high traffic, very well known, no transaction fee.	Anonymous, no rating system, communication happens outside of platform, bad reputation.
Dablr	Local marketplace for people to outsource everyday tasks, find local help and make extra cash.	Posters choose price, less expensive, simplest to use, in-app & flat-rate payment, no service fees.	No in-person orientation, but users do go through an application process.

What our users are saying

"Highest praise and recommendation for Dablr! Zac accepted a wedding job, turned additional tree removal for my fathers' home (his illness/surgery left much to do). Zac was prompt, polite and job done extremely well. Thanks, Dablr!"

"My husband and I have way too much to do so we tried a Dablr and were very pleased. Jack arrived on time and worked hard all day. He was polite and personable. We will use Dablr again to help us. Thank you for the implementation of a great idea."

"Super easy and stress free process. My task was picked up within an hour and the person who arrived was friendly, prompt, and very helpful. Best part - he even asked what thrift store I'd like the things dropped off at! Dablr provided a better and cheaper experience than other services."

"Wow! The level of professionalism from start to finish was truly refreshing. I was really impressed. I will definitely use Dablr again and can't wait to refer Dablr to others!"

STARTENGINE SUBSCRIPTION PROCESS (Exhibit E)

Platform Compensation

- As compensation for the services provided by StartEngine Capital, the issuer is required to pay to StartEngine Capital a fee consisting of a 6-8% (six to eight percent) commission based on the dollar amount of securities sold in the Offering and paid upon disbursement of funds from escrow at the time of a closing. The commission is paid in cash and in securities of the Issuer identical to those offered to the public in the Offering at the sole discretion of StartEngine Capital. Additionally, the issuer must reimburse certain expenses related to the Offering. The securities issued to StartEngine Capital, if any, will be of the same class and have the same terms, conditions and rights as the securities being offered and sold by the issuer on StartEngine Capital's website.

Information Regarding Length of Time of Offering

- Investment Cancellations: Investors will have up to 48 hours prior to the end of the offering period to change their minds and cancel their investment commitments for any reason. Once within 48 hours of ending, investors will not be able to cancel for any reason, even if they make a commitment during this period.
- Material Changes: Material changes to an offering include but are not limited to: A change in minimum offering amount, change in security price, change in management, material change to financial information, etc. If an issuer makes a material change to the offering terms or other information disclosed, including a change to the offering deadline, investors will be given five business days to reconfirm their investment commitment. If investors do not reconfirm, their investment will be cancelled and the funds will be returned.

Hitting The Target Goal Early & Oversubscriptions

- StartEngine Capital will notify investors by email when the target offering amount has hit 25%, 50% and 100% of the funding goal. If the issuer hits its goal early, and the minimum offering period of 21 days has been met, the issuer can create a new target deadline at least 5 business days out. Investors will be notified of the new target deadline via email and will then have the opportunity to cancel up to 48 hours before new deadline.
- Oversubscriptions: We require all issuers to accept oversubscriptions. This may not be possible if: 1) it vaults an issuer into a different category for financial statement requirements (and they do not have the requisite financial statements); or 2) they reach $1.07M in investments. In the event of an oversubscription, shares will be allocated at the discretion of the issuer.
- If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.
- If a StartEngine issuer reaches its target offering amount prior to the deadline, it may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if they provide notice of the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). StartEngine will notify investors when the issuer meets its target offering amount. Thereafter, the issuer may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline.

Minimum and Maximum Investment Amounts

- In order to invest, to commit to an investment or to communicate on our platform, users must open an account on StartEngine Capital and provide certain personal and non-personal information including information related to income, net worth, and other investments.
- Investor Limitations: Investors are limited in how much they can invest on all crowdfunding offerings during any 12-month period. The limitation on how much they can invest depends on their net worth (excluding the value of their primary residence) and annual income. If either their annual income or net worth is less than $107,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to the greater of either $2,200 or 5% of the lesser of their annual income or net worth. If both their annual income and net worth are equal to or more than $107,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to 10% of annual income or net worth, whichever is less, but their investments cannot exceed $107,000.
